WHAT THEY SAY THEY SAY.
The barber says it's this.
The Ordinance says it's that.
And so between the two
Where's the Board of Council at?

The Mayor says the Charter—
Which is the longest pole—
Will rank the green persimmons
Out of an early hole.

But Stalcup says the Mayor
Is talking through his hat—
The bus the innings opens,
With Cooney at the bat!

The canal is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and it will go through the stomach into the bowels, and there it sticks—that constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue and foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, distention, slowness, distress after eating, headache and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by drugists.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS!

THEY WILL ESTABLISH A GREAT MEMORIAL HALL.

It Will Be Known as the "Battle Abbey" of the South—Aid Asked For Its Completion—A Patriotic Appeal to Southern People.

HEADQUARTERS UNITED CONFEDERATE VETERANS, NEW ORLEANS, LA., Dec. 7th, 1895. [General Order No. 155.]

The progress made by the able and distinguished committee appointed in General Order Nos. 145 and 149 from these headquarters to examine into and report upon the plan submitted by the great philanthropist and benefactor, Charles Brown, for the establishment of a way Round, for the establishment of a great Memorial Hall, where Confederate relics and mementoes are to be deposited for all time, and which is to become the "Battle Abbey" of the South, must be very gratifying to the old veterans and to all those who love the traditions of the South and who cherish the memories of the courage and heroism of her sons, and the unparalleled devotion of her noble and self-sacrificing women.

This splendid committee has now successfully launched the grand enterprise, and through their action and that of the sub-committees have formulated a mode of procedure which, if energetically carried out, cannot fail of success.

It will be remembered that the generous and large-hearted donor, Mr. Charles Broadway Ross, who alone conceived this project for the perpetuation of the history and glory of his countrymen, presented a plan for its consummation to the veterans at the Houston reunion, at the same time subscribing $100,000 as his individual subscription to assist in carrying out his grand vision and ideas, conditioned upon the veterans raising a like amount.

To raise this $100,000 additional, and enough more to endow and insure the perpetuation of the institution, is the problem which now occupies the attention and efforts of the committee.

It is believed that one-half of the amount required will be raised through the subscription of the more than 50,000 members of the U. C. V. Association, and which will entitle them to certificates showing their contributions, thus giving each contributor an interest in this glorious enterprise which is so near and so dear to the heart of every veteran—and it is considered to be sure and beyond peradventure that the other half or balance, whatever may be required, will be raised by the noble women of the South.

The committee suggests that the most feasible manner of reaching the desired object is to set apart a "Memorial Festival Day," and they ask that the General Commanding will designate a date and issue a general order.

The General Commanding, therefore, in compliance with the request of the committee, designates Friday, May 1st, 1896, as the most suitable for a "Memorial Festival Day," to be set apart for the use of the women of the South in raising funds for this great Memorial Hall.

All the details and exercises of this "Memorial Festival Day" are to be planned, conducted and carried out entirely under the orders, control, ideas and management of the women of the South in their respective localities.

For in whose hands could this sacred trust more properly be placed and with more certainty of success than into those of the gentle women of the South, who have never yet faltered or failed in the performance of any duty, either in war or in peace, imposed upon them for the Southern cause.

Their spirit and determination animated the men of the South at the scene of the fratricidal conflict; they were the most constant and unrelenting patriots and workers during their country's mighty struggle, and the last to abandon the sacred cause after Southern hopes vanished behind the clouds at Appomattox.

The true history of their deeds and triumphs has yet written the story nor muse sung the song nor minstrel strung the lyre which truly celebrates their praise.

The straits to which they were reduced for food and clothing, the self-abnegation and hardships endured by them during those dark and gloomy days of war, finds no parallel in history; their patriotism and courage will be written in golden letters upon the tablets of time, ineffaceable while memory lasts, and as ministering angels, their names will live upon the pages of poetry and in romance as long as chivalry exists in the hearts and minds of mankind.

This "Battle Abbey" will not be dedicated alone to the history and deeds of the civic and military heroes of the greatest of civil wars, but the General Commanding will see that within its sacred portals sufficient and conspicuous space will be reserved for the names and fame of the "Heroines of the South."

As yet only wandering troubadours, like the bards of the middle ages, journeying from castle to castle, have very faintly sung their praise; but the tender and sacred memories which cluster with a halo of love and veneration around their living and dead demands that their names and the story of their glory be gathered ere it is too late, and that some Master, whose pen is inspired with celestial fire and whose touch is mellowed by the richness and grandeur of the theme, shall mingle and blend them with their glorious achievements into a Southern Epic, glowing with tributes of their unparalleled history, to be deposited in this august Temple of Southern Memory.

In this Temple of Fame, which is to be consecrated to all the people of the coming centuries, in a niche which will be carved out by the story of their own words and deeds, and their names will also be inscribed, commemorative of the courage and fame of the "Heroines of the South," a name which will ever be linked in history with those of "Rover Matrons" and "Daughters of the South," a name which will exclaim: "These are our jewels!" and did not their fortitude and heroism rise to even supreme heights? For they sent their offspring bravely and loyally to battle for their country, and with the "Spartan Mother's" deathless injunction: "Return with your shield, or on your arm!"

It is the duty of these illustrious women and to their descendants, to whom the General Commanding, therefore, cordially intrusts this important mission of assisting in this holy undertaking.

The General Commanding appeals to and urges these heroic women, survivors of a heroic age, and all the daughters of the South who take pride in the history of such worthy and glorious ancestors, to immediately, upon the receipt of this order, organize societies and elect Presidents, Secretaries, Treasurers and other officers in every city, town, hamlet and neighborhood in the South, and to notify Colonel H. C. Wood, General Manager of the Confederate Memorial Association, No. 44 Perdido street, New Orleans, La., so that he can at once supply them with subscription books and full instructions, and respectfully requests that they will commence without delay the collection of funds for the erection of this depository of the records of the valor of Southern manhood and the heroism of Southern womanhood, and continue their efforts systematically, making the "Memorial Festival Day," May 1st, 1896, the culmination of their efforts.

The money raised by each society and in each locality must be deposited in some good bank or otherwise safe depository, to the order of the United Confederate Veterans for the use of the Confederate Memorial Association, to remain until called for by proper authority.

In the meantime each society or locality, where money is raised, will report the amount collected to Colonel R. C. Wood, General Manager of the Confederate Memorial Association, No. 44 Perdido street, New Orleans, La., so that an idea can be formed of the total amount thus secured.

The General Commanding requests the old veterans composing the 731 United Confederate Veterans' camps of this Association to render all the assistance possible to the ladies engaged in this holy cause.

The General Commanding also requests that every newspaper throughout the South and elsewhere, favorable to this grand historic enterprise, will publish this order, and with editorial comment give it the widest publicity. By order of

L. B. GORDON, General Commanding.

George Moorman, Adjutant General and Chief of Staff.
